

brillsteinentertainmentpartners

Jon Liebman

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Brillstein Entertainment Partners

Jon Liebman is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Brillstein Entertainment Partners, Hollywood's premier talent management/production company.

A 35-year-old company based in Los Angeles and New York, Brillstein Entertainment Partners manages the global media and entertainment aspects of the careers of hundreds of actors, writers, producers and directors. Over the years, Brillstein has produced many acclaimed network and cable television shows and motion pictures which have been distributed worldwide. In addition, the company works with selected brands and emerging companies to help them navigate the world of entertainment and media.

As CEO, Jon oversees the management and production businesses of the company. He works closely with Brillstein's multifaceted clients, covering all areas of the entertainment and media industry, including television, motion pictures, podcasts, publishing, advertising and marketing, commercial endorsements, and licensing. In 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020, Liebman was named to the Variety 500, a list of the 500 most impactful people working in media today.

Jon was Executive Producer of the HBO documentary "In Memoriam: New York City 9/11/01," which won The Peabody Silver Baton Award in 2003. Jon was also an Executive Producer on the popular docuseries, "Fear City", which was a top 10 program for Netflix in the summer of 2020.

Jon is an active member of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) and serves on the CFR's Nomination and Governance Committee. He is a member of the Pacific Council on International Policy and serves on the Advisory Board of the Los Angeles Sports and Entertainment Commission. He also is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Archives Foundation in Washington D.C and serves on the Programming and Education Committee. He has written, taught, and lectured on the entertainment business and legal matters, including guest lectures at UC Berkeley Law, Columbia, USC, USC Law School, Yale College, and Yale Law School.

Jon graduated summa cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa, from Yale College in 1981. He graduated from Yale Law School in 1985 and clerked for United States District Judge Leonard B. Sand in Manhattan. Early in his career, he served as a White House Intern and as an Assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York. He was appointed Deputy Chief of the Criminal Division after four years in the Manhattan U.S. Attorney's office.